

The Pork Pie Shop Pies

The Pork Pie Shop has recalled their own branded Pork Pies and Ascot Pies from butchers and small grocery stores in South Australia due to potential salmonella contamination.

Food products contaminated with salmonella may cause illness if consumed and any consumers concerned about their health should seek medical advice.

The products can be returned to the place of purchase for a full refund.

Date notified to FSANZ

21/03/2017

Food type

Pork Pie

Product name

The Pork Pie Shop Pork Pies

The Pork Pie Shop Ascot Pies

Package description and size

These are unpackaged pork pies

Date marking

All batches are being recalled

Country of origin

Australia

Reason for recall

Potential microbial contamination - salmonella

Distribution

Butchers and small grocery stores in South Australia

Consumer advice

Food products contaminated with salmonella may cause illness if consumed and any consumers concerned about their health should seek medical advice.

The products can be returned to the place of purchase for a full refund.

Contact

The Pork Pie Shop

www.theporkpieshop.com.au

Related links:

